April 2018 MEETING – Logan's Roadhouse, Myrtle Beach

IT'S FINALLY SPRING!!

Car shows, Cruise-Ins, Cars and Coffee, and Easter Weekend in Myrtle Beach, what more could a Corvette owner ask for? Our April Meeting on the 8th was a packed event at Logan's Roadhouse across from Coastal Grande Mall in Myrtle Beach. George Washnak, our President reviewed club information and reminded everyone the car show is coming up and volunteers are needed for the many positions we will have to staff for that day.

Mickey Sharp, Membership Chairman, reviewed the current membership numbers for Grand Strand Corvettes, now at 60 members on the roster. All Corvette owners are encouraged to attend a monthly meeting and see all GSCC has to offer. Discussion of making a “year of purchase” complimentary membership available to purchasers of Corvettes from Jud Kuhn Chevrolet and Coastal Chevrolet approved at the March meeting has been implemented.

Activities options for our members were presented by Debbie Washnak, Activities Committee Chair. Upcoming events include the Pelicans baseball game where a “Parade of Corvettes” around the warning track at the park is always a blast. This year will also have a “Parade of Harley’s” at the same game. Debbie and her Committee have been working hard to prepare for the Grand Strand Annual Club Picnic. This will be on June 10, 2018 at Huntington Beach State Park in the picnic area. This will be a catered event so please let Debbie know ASAP if you are coming if you haven’t already done so. She also gave more information on the upcoming trips to Biltmore Estates and the Georgia Mountains Cruise. Check our website for more information on exciting and fun times.

Our planning for the 2018 Grand Strand Corvettes Car Show is moving along nicely. We have now 250 flyers already distributed along with posters in 10 locations along the Grand Strand. Vendors, door prizes, goody bags, etc. are already being put together. Let’s make the 2018 show the best ever!!

CARS AND COFFEE IS BACK!!!

Don't forget, the first Sunday of each month at the Bagel Factory in Carolina Forest, just off 501. Free coffee for those showing their cars. The first 2018 gathering was March 4th. The April Cars and Coffee fell on Easter Sunday morning and was postponed until April 8th to allow our car friends to enjoy Easter morning with their families. Even though it was a week late, the fun was worth the wait. A smaller turnout than normal was experienced due to the unusually cold, windy, and wet conditions of the morning.

Our website has been updated with current information. Check us out

On March 30, 2018, a good gathering of club members had dinner at Maggie D's. Everyone enjoyed the great food and fellowship with John Magliotti and his staff. While not an "official" club event, the turnout was great and the parking lot looked like a Corvette dealership!! Thanks to Lori Russell for the pictures.

Jason's House is coming up quickly beginning in June. Please make plans to participate and don't forget to look for Hot Wheels Corvette cars to give to the kids as they get their rides in our Corvettes each weekend!! As Toys-r-Us is closing, there are none left there to buy, and we tried!! Below is a short description of this incredible group of volunteers that helps explain our passion.

What is Jason's House?

A sign at the back of the Surfside United Methodist Church noting this as "Jason's House" lets out-of-town visitors know they've come to the right place.

The row of brightly colored Corvettes and the Surfside Beach fire truck in the parking lot also gives an indication something special is happening here. Inside, volunteers are gathered in the reception area, ready to offer a warm Myrtle Beach welcome to the families with young cancer victims who've come to enjoy a week at the ocean and "get away from it all."

"They're getting away from hospitals, doctors, and chemo," explained Elaine Paige with Jason's House. The idea for Jason's House, which is not really a house at all, started at Surfside United Methodist Church in 1984 with a husband and wife dealing with the loss of their son.

"Jason Lewis was the little boy who died of cancer," Paige said. "His parents moved to Myrtle Beach after his death and said, 'Oh my goodness, wouldn't he have loved to live here with all the fun things to do?'"

They decided to bring other children to the beach to enjoy the things they knew would have meant so much to Jason. The program has expanded significantly since it began 32 years ago. With the help of social workers and doctors at 14 hospitals in Virginia, North Carolina, Georgia, and South Carolina, Jason's House now brings 60 families here every summer.

Those families begin arriving the first weekend in June and continue through the last weekend in August.

Paige says that while a week at the beach is wonderful for the kids, it also offers a much needed break for the parents. Some of them have never been on a vacation before. And for some of them this will be their last vacation because the children won't make it," Paige said.

This is why Grand Strand Corvette members feel so strongly in our commitment to this wonderful charity.

Cruise-In's and Car Shows are competing for turn-out all across eastern South and North Carolina. March 30 saw the Lake City Napa Show, The Easter Show at Inlet Square Mall, and the Rock-a-Bunny Rumble at Suck, Bang, Blow in Murrells Inlet all going on at the same time. What a weekend!! Four of our club members took home Best in Class plaques from the Rock-a-Bunny show, even if one was a Mustang (and yes, she also owns a Corvette with her husband).

On April 14th, 2018, four of our members went to the Hemingway Bar-B-Que and Shag Festival in Hemingway, S.C.. This was a great venue with 116 cars registered for the competition. All four of our club cars brought home trophies.

More April Shows and Cruise-Ins – What a busy month

April 21st Bash at the Beach (19th Annual) – Shallotte, N.C.

Swamp Fox Classic Car Show – Florence, S.C.

Vette's Doin' Charleston – Charleston, S.C.

Solid Rock Church Cruise-In – Murrells Inlet

Best in Show: Getting your car ready for the show season

There are so many different car care products available, it would be impossible to recommend the best ones. Most people find what works best for them. But here's a basic rundown of how to prepare your car for the next show:

1. Clean the engine compartment and undercarriage: It's a good idea to do this first, to avoid splattering grease on an already cleaned car. You might also put towels on the windshield and fenders to keep from getting cleaner on them.

2. Wash the car: Rinse the car, then use an automotive-specific cleaner and a sponge or mitt that's designed for use with automotive finishes. Don't even think about using dish soap; it's too strong. Start by cleaning the wheels, to avoid getting brake dust-infused water all over an already-washed car. Then work your way from the roof down. It's also a good idea to wash in the shade, as soap will evaporate quickly from a hot surface and leave spots and streaks on the paint.

3. Dry the car with a chamois or high-quality microfiber towel. Apply tire dressing only after the tires are completely dry.

4. Clean surface impurities: Some people like to use an abrasive polish to clean stains and sap from the paint and re-store lost shine. Others prefer a clay bar. In either case, follow the directions on the packaging to ensure a good finish and to avoid damaging the paint.

5. Wax the car: Work in the shade. Wax will dry too quickly on hot paint, and will cause hazing and other ugly imperfections. Apply the wax in thin coats to small sections of the car, buffing the area with a clean towel.

6. Clean the interior: Clean the door jambs, hinges and the backs of the doors. Vacuum the carpets. Clean the carpets with an automotive carpet cleaner (follow the instructions on the can), then vacuum again to get any residue left over by the cleaner. Use a rag soaked in warm water and a small amount of very mild soap to wipe down vinyl and plastic surfaces (again, don't use harsh detergents and cleaners). For leather, use a leather cleaner and conditioner. Don't forget to detail the trunk.

7. Clean the glass: Don't use Windex and other household glass cleaners, as they weren't designed for your car's interior and won't work well. Use an automotive glass cleaner or newspapers and hot water. Either way, you're looking for a streak-free finish.

8. Look over the car's details: Are the wheels and tires original (and does it matter for the show you've entered)? Check under-hood components for neatness and originality. Parts to watch out for are spark plugs and wires, distributor caps, radiator caps and other replaceable filters. You don't want to lose points because you showed up in a '59 Corvette outfitted with Japanese double platinum spark plugs and a generic radiator cap. Most of all, don't forget to have fun!
